Dedicated to Her Objective

Stephanie Marion Honored As Student Nurse of 1965

Miss Stephanie Marion, a 20-year-old, blue-green-eyed blonde senior at Riverside Methodist Hospital school of nursing in Columbus, is national "Miss Methodist Student Nurse of 1965."

Her selection was announced today in Evanston, Ill., by Dr. Olin E. Oeschger, general secretary of the Board of Hospitals and Homes of The Methodist Church.

Miss Marion, an only child, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Marion, 217 N. Scio to St. She is a member of First Methodist Church and a 1962 graduate of Circleville High School.

An honor student in high school and in the upper third of her class in nursing, Miss Marion hopes someday to work as a nurse in the Methodist mission field.

THIS has been a long-time goal of the soft-spoken willowy beauty. She put it this way:

"As a child I wanted to be a nurse. When I grew older, my interest in nursing deepened and I decided the basis for this was my love of people. At the time I dedicated my life to Christ, I felt the way to fulfill my calling was through nursing."

Today, less than a year from completing her three-year training, she said she is more sure than ever that she has been called to work among underprivileged people. "I'm willing to go wherever the need is greatest," she said.

In announcing her selection, Dr. Oeschger said: "Miss Marion will represent nursing as a scientific profession which demands real competence and emotional stability. She will focus public attention on nursing as an occupation in which a young person may find the fulfillment of her Christian vocation."

Miss Marion appears to fit the qualifications admirably. From a Christian commitment standpoint, her church work has been exemplary. Her endeavors include teaching in Bible School, singing in the senior choir, serving on the official board, being president of the Methodist Youth Fellowship and an official of the Chillicothe District MYF Council.

In high school she was co-editor of the yearbook, member of the Girls Athletic Assn., 4-H Club and represented CHS at Buckeye Girls' State where

Viet Chiefs Plan Talks on U.S. Impasse

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, Viet Nam's military commander, and his general staff flew to the seaside resort of Cap St. Jacques today for conferences apparently aimed at ending the deadlock with the United States.

The United States has been holding back an estimated $600 million offer of expanded aid for Viet Nam since Khanh and his generals ousted the civilian High National Council on Dec. 20 and arrested a number of political leaders.

The United States has demanded that the council, which was South Viet Nam's provisional legislature, be reinstated in some form. It also wants the political prisoners released. Khanh has hinted that he is ready to do without American aid rather than give in to Washington's demands.

Chief of State Phan Khanh Suu and Premier Tran Van Huong issued a communique Monday calling on Khanh and his followers to restore the national council.

Suu and Huong were not ousted in the military purge, but they said it had shaken the foundation of their government. Both were named by the High National Council.

120 Whites Rescued in Congo Move

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — White mercenaries and Congolese troops today captured Wamba and rescued more than 120 white hostages. But they reported about 10 white hostages were slaughtered by Congolese rebels and parts of their flesh eaten during Christmas.

The mercenaries seized Wamba two hours after dawn this morning following a drive of more than 250 miles northeast from Stanleyville, former capital of the Communist-backed rebel Congolese Peoples Republic.

U.S. officials said it was hoped to bring the rescued hostages to safety by Wednesday. The officials said they thought the hostages would be flown to Leopoldville in U.S. Air Force planes.

Among the hostages last reported at Wamba is William McChesney, an American Protestant missionary from Phoenix, Ariz. The radio message from Wamba did not mention whether he had been found. McChesney is the last American citizen known to be behind rebel lines in the northeastern Congo.

Buffalo Aide Hurt; Chicago Priests Held

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Two gunmen robbed the city treasurer's office of an estimated $299,000 today, police reported.

One of the pair beat the city treasurer, Melvin Elliott, on the head as Elliott sought to stall them in the office.

Patrolman Thomas J. Wright, assigned to the office, was in another part of the office at the time.

When told that the gunmen had fled with a money bag, Wright ran outside.

"I got outside in time to see the last of the two entering the car and the car pulling away, and managed to get one shot at the getaway machine," he told a reporter. "I think I hit it." Meanwhile, in Chicago, Brink's estimated today that the company lost $223,000 to three robbers who overpowered two guards and two Roman Catholic priests in a church rectory.

The robbery at Divine Savior church Monday was a virtual replay of last week's half-million-dollar holdup at a church in Paterson, N.J.

In Monday's robbery, the guard was hospitalized with head injuries, but the priests were not injured.

The gunmen, wearing Halloween masks and a ski hood, bound two priests in a Roman Catholic Church rectory in suburban Norridge late Monday, then jumped the Brink's guard when he arrived to collect the church's Sunday collections.

One gunman put on the guard's uniform and gained admittance to the armored truck outside the Divine Savior church. He slugged the driver, drove the truck to a nearby cemetery and the three men fled with the money in a car.

Guard in All States Said Integrated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief of the National Guard said today all 50 states — with Alabama and Mississippi falling into line last — have dropped bars against mixing Negroes and whites in their Guard units.

"The National Guard of all states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico is now integrated," Maj. Gen. Winston P. Wilson told The Associated Press.

"All restrictions, whether by law or administrative regulation, barring membership for race, religion or national origin have been eliminated in the National Guard," he added.

Wilson, chief of the National Guard Bureau, acknowledged that there had been "only token integration in some areas so far." But Wilson, an Air Guard general from Arkansas, contended that even token integration "represents a milestone in the history of the National Guard."

President Johnson and his Committee on Equal Opportunity in the Armed Forces said last Sunday they were encouraged at "definite and clear signs of progress" in desegregating the Guard.

They strongly indicated they were not satisfied with token integration in some states.

Ohio High Judge Near 32nd Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Judge Charles B. Zimmerman will start his 32nd year on the Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday.

The 73-year-old jurist will be sworn in for another six-year term at 11 a. m. Wednesday by Chief Justice Kingsley A. Taft along with three others.

They are Judge C. William O'Neill, 48, former governor; Tax Commissioner Louis J. Schneider, 43, of Cincinnati; and 7th District Appellate Judge Paul W. Brown, 49, of Youngstown.

Ceremonies will be held in the courtroom of the statehouse annex in the presence of relatives and friends of the judges.

Mighty Work Force Starts Big Cleanup Job in Flood Region

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A mighty force of men and machines shouldered the task today of cleaning up after the West's Christmas week floods, called by the governor of California "a major American disaster."

A massive airlift hoisted food and emergency repair equipment into stricken northwestern California.

Snow and falling temperatures added to the misery of refugees from high water and threatened again to block helicopter delivery of food bundles to hundreds marooned in the high California timber country for the ninth straight day.

Between 400 and 500 persons were isolated in vestpocket lumbering and mining communities along the Klamath and Salmon rivers in extreme northern California. They have been cut off since Dec. 21. Civil Defense workers said they undoubtedly were getting desperate for food.

Dozens of helicopters were in Yreka, Calif., near the Oregon border loaded for mercy missions but unable to take off because of snow and icing conditions.

"We get a three-hour break in the weather," said Yreka Civil Defense chief Bill Sowle, "and you're going to see the damndest airlift out of here you've ever seen."

"This is very, very rugged, mountainous country. In some areas we'll have to evacuate and in others we'll have to drop supplies. We have a report of 14 children in one house at Oak Bottom 70 miles west of here on the Klamath. I'm concerned about those people and I'm concerned about the people on whom we have no reports at all."

Roughly the northern third of California, all Oregon and 14 counties in Washington had been declared a disaster area, enabling the region to receive special government assistance. Uncounted thousands of men were at work in the three coast states, and Idaho and Nevada, also hit by floods, beginning the

Once Around Roundtown

PICKAWAY COUNTY 4-H Club members are reminded that steer projects must be enrolled at the local Extension office on or before Jan. 1. The reminder was sounded today by George Hamrick, Pickaway Extension agent.

These steer projects are considered an annual highlight for young farm people in the county.

THE SALVATION ARMY unit here expressed a sincere "thank you" today to this community.

With the assistance of the SOS Club at Circleville High School, the local organization collected $112 in the "Red Kettles" the week before Christmas.

When added to budgeted funds from the Community Fund, this money made it possible to provide a brighter Christmas for 20 families in Pickaway County.

Each family received food, new clothing and a wrapped toy for each child. All points in the county were reached. The delivery route amounted to 180 miles.

Salvation Army officials extended gratitude to each citizen who assisted their program, either through the Community Fund or the "Red Kettles."

It is the true spirit of Christmas when we give a gift without expecting one in return.

AT LEAST two persons in the downtown area started compiling their lists of New Year's resolutions today. After seeing the list in "black and white" one of the Roundtowners discarded it and decided to make only one resolution — "Not to make any New Year's resolutions."

Boston Gangland Slayings Total 11

BOSTON (AP) — The new count in Boston: 11 men slain in unsolved gangland style murders in the Greater Boston area since March.

The latest was George E. Ash, 43, stabbed more than 50 times and shot in the head before his body was found in a parked car early Monday.

Ash had worked as a bartender in Boston's Brighton section after his release eight months ago from a Rhode Island prison.

He had served four years after conviction for his part in the Providence slaying of Albert G. Freeland.

Ohio Hospital Hearing Is Slated for Jan. 14

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Health Department announced today a hearing Jan. 14 on revision of the state's hospital and medical facilities plan.

Distribution of Ohio's $10 million share of federal Hill-Burton funds will be based on the plan. Celina, Millersburg, Kenton and Wilmington head the list of communities with the greatest need for general hospital beds, according to the revised plan, with Cincinnati topping the state's major urban areas in hospital needs.

LBJ, Rusk Plan Review Of World Developments

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson meets today with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Presidential Assistant McGeorge Bundy to review world developments.

The three also were to discuss the State Department's budget for the next fiscal year and go over personnel matters.

Rusk and Bundy, presidential assistant for national security affairs, were to fly to the President's ranch from Washington during the morning.

George McGhee, U.S. ambassador to Bonn, who is home for consultation, will fly to the ranch Wednesday to review developments in West Germany.

Johnson's statement that he would review with Rusk and Bundy "ambassadors throughout the world" appeared to be in line with reports he plans shifts in 15 to 20 ambassadorships.

Man To Try Again To Fly Like a Bird

SEAFORD, Del. (AP) — Flying by flapping your own wings is for the birds, but it may not be much longer.

A practical-minded scientist named John S. Seney, 50, of Seaford, and a college junior, Stephen Moore, 19, of Fairfax, Va., have set out to determine whether or not the age-old dream of man flying like a bird can be made a reality.

Seney and Moore are hoping that electronic instruments, and a bird — a buzzard named Leonardo — will teach them how.

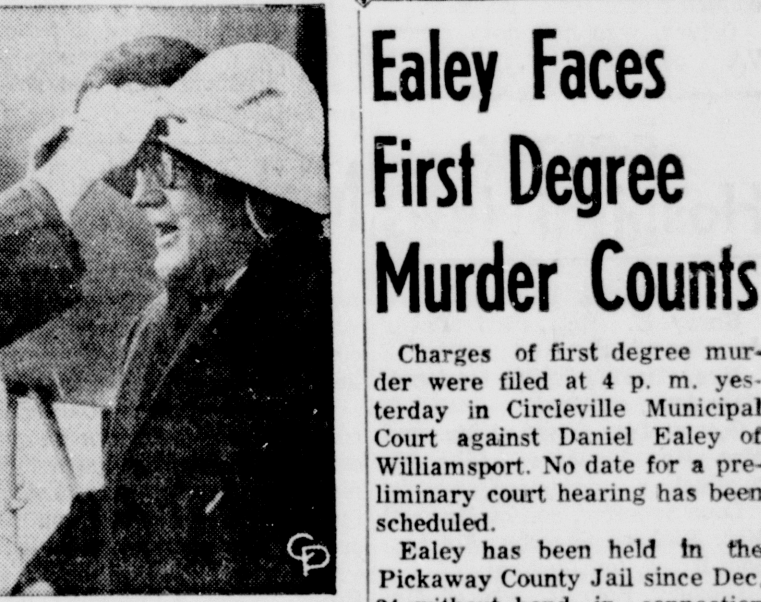

Leonardo gets his name from the many-sided genius, Leonardo da Vinci, who tried, but failed, to solve the challenge of flight back in the early 16th century.

Seney, who heads the electro-mechanical research laboratory of the DuPont Company here, plans to start Leonardo flying while electronic instruments and high-speed cameras record how he does it and how hard he works at it.

Then the experts, medical and mechanical, will be asked to analyze the anatomy of a healthy young man — Moore — and help figure out what he could do to convert his strength into effective wing-flapping.

Soviet Demands Quality

MOSCOW (AP) — Factories which turn out defective goods face heavy fines and their chiefs may go to prison in a new Soviet drive to impose quality.

Ealey Faces First Degree Murder Counts. Charges of first degree murder were filed at 4 p. m. yesterday in Circleville Municipal Court against Daniel Ealey of Williamsport. No date for a preliminary court hearing has been scheduled.

Ealey has been held in the Pickaway County Jail since Dec. 24 without bond in connection with the slaying of Gail Lewis and Emanuel Baldwin.

The three men occupied separate apartments in the same building in Williamsport.

The case probably will be referred to the January session of the Grand Jury which will convene Monday.

U.N. Postpones Dues Decision

Assembly Return Set for Jan. 11

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations General Assembly agreed today to a plan to wind up its year-end business without a showdown over the Soviet Union's voting rights.

Under the formula, announced to the 115-nation assembly, seats to become vacant on the U.N. Security Council Dec. 31 would be filled by a private poll of delegations, to be conducted by the assembly president, Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana.

The Security Council election and adoption of a resolution authorizing some spending after Jan. 1 were the main obstacles to recessing the assembly. It is expected to finish either later today or Wednesday morning and adjourn until Jan. 11.

Quaison-Sackey told the assembly he would conduct the proposed poll in his office, and announce the results during the afternoon.

The only contest was between Jordan and Mali for the seat being vacated by Morocco. The Netherlands, Uruguay and Malaysia were unopposed for the other seats to be filled.

The effect of the recess was to postpone a confrontation between the United States and the Soviet Union over Article 19 of the U.N. Charter, which provides for the loss of voting rights for countries two years in arrears in paying assessments.

The Soviet Union and six other Communist countries are in this category.

OSU Is Awarded Grant For Radio Sky Maps

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University announced today it has received a $102,000 National Science Foundation grant to make more detailed maps of the radio sky.

Dr. John D. Kraus, director of the Ohio State-Ohio Wesleyan University radio observatory, will make studies of the Andromeda nebula, the nearest island universe system similar to the earth's universe. He published a new map of this nebula last year.

LBJ on Talent Search For New 'Little Cabinet'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson had a lot of officials and their wives sitting on the edge of their chairs today — some with a sense of foreboding, some in hopeful expectation.

Much excitement was aroused by word that the President plans a shakeup in his "little Cabinet," that he will make many new appointments to such posts as undersecretary, assistant secretary and other administrators.

The President has ordered a "talent hunt." He wants, so far as possible, to recruit his new administrators from men and women already in the government.

So the question arose: Who will get the ax, and who will be promoted to jobs paying as high as $30,000 a year?

It is one of the hardest secrets to crack, because the President is playing his cards so close to his chest.

Johnson dipped into government ranks in making two of his most recent appointments. Saturday he named William J. Driver to head the Veterans Administration. Monday night he selected Sheldon S. Cohen to be collector of internal revenue.

Driver, who had been deputy VA administrator, succeeds masks robbed a bank truck while it was picking up the Sunday collection at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. The bandits made off with the truck containing $513,000 after binding four priests and guards who entered the rectory to pick up the money.

Here is the account of the holdup told by police and church officials:

The armored truck usually gets to the Divine Savior church on Monday's between 5:45 and 6:30 p.m. It arrived about 2 minutes after 6 p.m.

Guard Robert Johnston, 38, of suburban Alsip entered the rectory and noticed the Rev. Walter Morris, 38, pastor of the church, sitting tied in a chair. Johnston was immediately hit from behind by one of the gunmen.

The Rev. Richard Burke, 31, had walked into the room just before the Brink's guard arrived and after the three masked men had tied Father Morris to a chair with surgical tape and gagged him.

Father Burke was knocked to the floor by one gunman and bound with tape.

After the guard was hit, he was tied to Father Burke with tape.

The three masked men, one of them reported as very nervous, then went into action. One robber put on Johnston's Brink's uniform and went outside. He gained admittance to the armored truck and slugged the driver, Bernard Gendek, 27.

The other two men, who had rifled the rectory safe of about $200, ran outside and drove in a car behind the truck to a cemetery near the church.

The men quickly loaded the money into their car, handcuffed Gendek to the cemetery fence and fled.

Heinz Beer, an ambulance driver for the Norridge fire department, had gone to the rectory to see Father Burke. He heard muffled sounds and found the two priests and the guard. Father Burke had managed to dial police after the three gunmen left.

Johnston was hospitalized for lacerations to the head. He was reported to be in satisfactory condition.

TRAGIC DEATH — Law enforcement officers prepare to remove the bodies of two Columbus residents from this automobile parked just off Route 762 near Orient. William M. Payne, 35, and Dorothy Louise Turner, 16, were victims of carbon monoxide poisoning, according to the Sheriff's Department.

Porch Job Awarded to Stout Firm

A bid calling for repair and alterations of a rear porch at the Children's Home was accepted and awarded to the local J. Boyd Stout Co. yesterday by the Pickaway County Board of Commissioners.

The bid by the Stout firm was the only one submitted. The total project cost was set at $3,136.

Labor and material cost was established at $2,740. One alternate for heating is $196 and a second alternate for repair of exterior steps to the second floor and the leveling of steps and reinforcing as necessary was $200.

In other business, the Commission approved bonds on several public officials. The transactions were for Engineer Henry McCrady, Clerk of Courts Sara Dresbach, Sheriff Dwight Radcliff, Recorder Hazel Yeatts and Commissioners Charles Morris Jr. and Lloyd Melvin.

The solons also approved a motion for personnel at the Children's Home to farm corn land at the County Infirmary. The work will be done on halves.

Oil Search Continues

Oil drilling operations are under way on the Riffin farm in Jackson Twp. west of Circleville.

A spokesman for Geomac, a Granville geophysical firm that is conducting exploratory operations in Pickaway County, said today no oil strike has been made.

The spokesman said that although "oil shows" had been made during other exploratory drillings conducted in the county, no productive well has yet been drilled.

Petitions Ready For May Primary

Declaration of candidacy and nominating petitions for the May primary election are now available at the Pickaway County Board of Elections office.

The deadline for filing the signature petitions is Feb. 3, board officials noted today, which is less than five weeks away.

Several city posts will be up for nomination at the primary, including mayor and judge of Municipal Court. Two trustees are to be elected from each township, board of education members (both city and county), and several other county offices.

The elections board also noted that at the time of filing, each candidate must pay a fee of one-half of one per cent of the annual salary of the office he is seeking. However, in no case shall the fee be more than $50 or less than $1.

There is no stated "annual salary" for the office of member of boards of education or township trustee. Petitions for these offices must be accompanied by the minimum fee of $1.

Traffic Docket Lists 5 Motorists

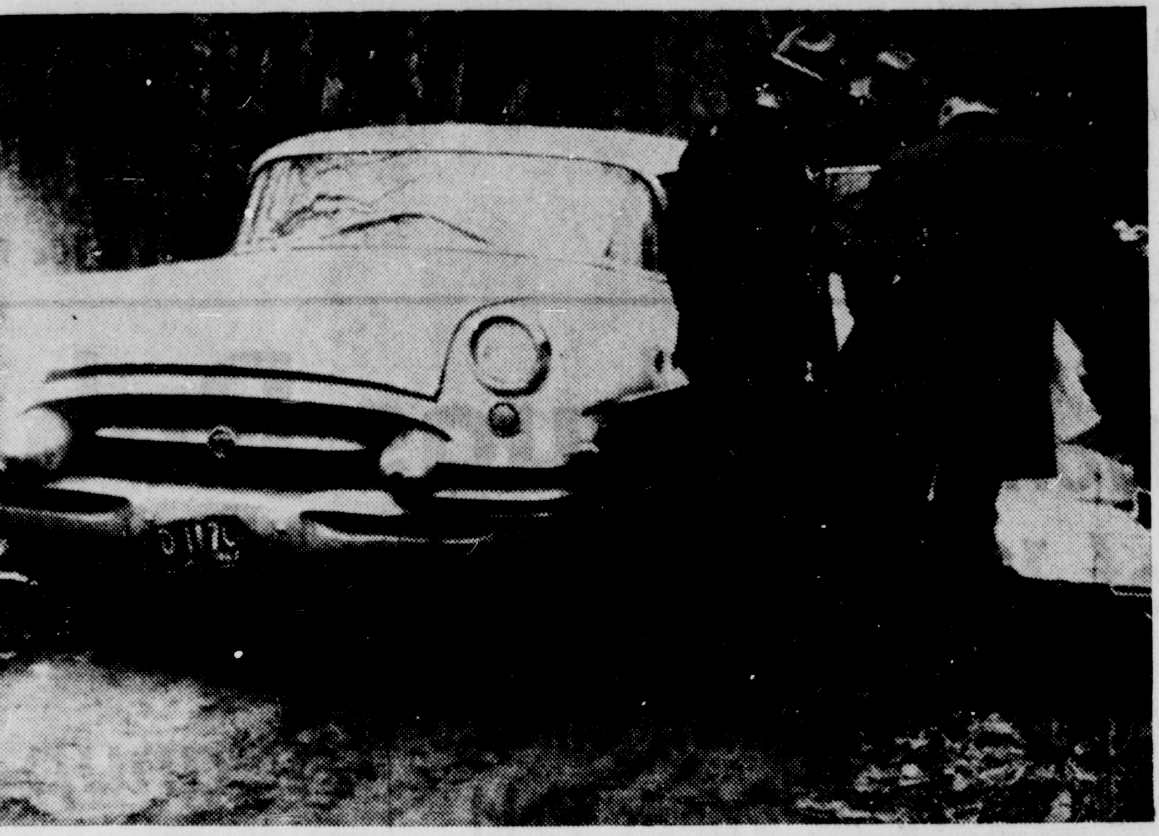

The completed traffic docket in Circleville Municipal court today listed five motorists.

Paul Smith, 115 Pleasant St., was fined $10 and costs for parking in an alley.

Ruth Nungester, 48, Route 3; $15 and costs for failure to yield the right of way.

TRAGIC DEATH — Law enforcement officers prepare to remove the bodies of two Columbus residents from this automobile parked just off Route 762 near Orient. William M. Payne, 35, and Dorothy Louise Turner, 16, were victims of carbon monoxide poisoning, according to the Sheriff's Department.

Columbus Man, Girl Victims Of Carbon Monoxide Gas

A 35-year-old man and a 16-year-old girl, both residents of Columbus, succumbed to carbon monoxide poisoning in an auto parked in a wooded area just off Route 762 near Orient. The bodies were discovered about 1:30 p.m. yesterday.

They were identified as William M. Payne, married and the father of four children, and Dorothy Louise Turner, a student at South High School, Columbus.

Discovered by an inmate at Orient State Institute, the tragedy was first reported to be a possible murder-suicide by the State Highway Patrol.

However, Pickaway County Sheriff Walton W. Spangler said there was absolutely no indication of foul play. Dr. Ray Carroll, Pickaway County coroner, ruled the deaths accidental.

DR. CARROLL estimated the time of death at 6 a.m. Monday. He said the carbon monoxide poisoning had apparently started taking effect at 2 a.m.

The car's ignition was still on and the heater fan was still operating when investigators checked the auto. The vehicle had a faulty exhaust system.

The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Turner had reported their daughter missing to Columbus police Monday morning. They said she had left home 9 p.m. Sunday.

The bodies were brought here to the Defenbaugh Funeral Home and later transferred to Columbus where arrangements were to be completed.

Dr. Sam's Wife Loses Awaited Baby

CLEVELAND (AP) — Samuel H. Sheppard's wife had a miscarriage, and the 35-year-old blonde says it was caused by the strain of awaiting the final decision on whether her husband must return to prison.

Mrs. Sheppard, the former Ariane Tebbenjohanns, told the Associated Press Monday night, she suffered the miscarriage Christmas Eve in the couple's suburban Rocky River home. She said she had been pregnant almost three months.

Sheppard, who was freed from Ohio Penitentiary after serving nine years, was convicted of second-degree murder for the July 4, 1954 bludgeoning slaying of his pregnant first wife, Marilyn.

A ruling is pending from the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati on whether a federal judge was justified in freeing him on a writ of habeas corpus July 16. Sheppard, 40, and Mrs. Tebbenjohanns were married two days later in Chicago.

"I was very concerned about the decision in Cincinnati," Mrs. Sheppard said. "The closer it became to Christmas the more nervous I became. I didn't know if they would pick him up at the last minute."

"Finally, on Dec. 24, when I was certain he would stay home for Christmas, I relaxed and that's when it happened. Now I feel weak and tired and am taking it very easy."

Port of Cleveland Foreign Cargo Soars

CLEVELAND (AP) — General foreign cargo (not counting Canadian) handled by the Port of Cleveland this year was up 6.7 per cent over last year's, but overseas bulk cargo shipments (excluding foreign iron ore) were down 34 per cent.

Mayor Ralph S. Locher, who announced the figures Monday said the small size of the increases in general foreign cargo was due chiefly to labor disputes and a decline in military tank tonnage shipments resulting from a changeover in management at the Cleveland Tank Plant.

News of World in Brief

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — A Huntington man has been arrested at Waverly, Ohio, and charged with the armed robbery of the Feseneimer Brewing Co. of Huntington, authorities said today.

Police reported that $1,438 taken in the holdup last night had been recovered.

Charged with armed robbery was Homer Smallridge, 36. He has agreed to waive extradition and was to be returned to Huntington today.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — More than $5.2 million in public utility excise taxes was distributed for poor relief during December, State Auditor Chester W. Goble reported today.

Advance payments were made on collections due in mid-December from the taxes. About $2.5 million was distributed early in December and another $2.7 million was sent out shortly before Christmas.

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's traffic deaths over the weekend totaled 578, second to the record toll for a three-day Christmas holiday weekend.

The record toll for a three-day Christmas holiday period is 609 set in 1955. This year's total compared with 396 fatalities reported in a three-day nonholiday weekend earlier this month.

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A geophysicist who spent six weeks in the Alaska area studying effects of the March 27 earthquake said Monday that in many places off the coast the ocean floor raised as much as 50 feet.

Richard J. Malloy said his findings were based on soundings made in 1927 and just after the quake.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI has asked police departments to spell out the precise nature of morals offenses against government employees when submitting fingerprint cards to the FBI's central print files.

A bureau spokesman said Monday the request merely reiterates a policy of long standing and has nothing to do with the recent Walter Jenkins case. Jenkins resigned as an assistant to President Johnson after two arrests on morals charges were made public. His resignation was asked by the President.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma believes the race for the assistant Senate Democratic leadership will end with his own selection as a compromise.

Monroney said in an interview Monday the contest is a close one among three senators — John O. Pastore of Rhode Island, Russell B. Long, of Louisiana, and Monroney.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist guerrillas today freed a Filipino sugar cane expert of the U. S. aid mission who was kidnapped Aug. 8 with an American field representative, Joseph W. Grainger of Sumter, S.C.

The Filipino, Eligio Lauguico, looked tired and ill.

American officials brought him to Saigon from the coastal city of Qui Nhon. They advised him not to talk to newsmen, but he did say Grainger was "taken deeper into the mountains" after being held with him for the first three months of his captivity.

Experimental Airplane Crash Is Under Probe

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Federal aviation authorities are investigating the crash of a single-engine plane that killed stunt pilot John W. Sepos Jr., 29, of Massillon. The small, homemade experimental airplane, took off from Magnolia Airport and plunged into a wooded area southeast of here Monday.

An eyewitness told the Highway Patrol that the right wing of the plane broke up, but the Patrol believes the crash was due to some other structural or mechanical failure. Donald Sickafosse, owner and manager of the Magnolia Airport, said he believed one wing may have folded back some six feet from its normal position.

Fabled Funny Fellows

Now rapidly passing, 1964 has been a sad year for the human comedy. Such greats of the entertainment world as Harpo Marx and Eddie Cantor passed on only a few months ago, and now two expert funnymen of the old school, William Bendix and Percy Kilbride, have died.

If all the laughs they brought to the world were heard all at one time, a hundred million eardrums would be shattered.

While William Bendix was an expert menace as well as a comedian, he will be best remembered for his portrayal of a good-hearted Irish fumbler in "The Live of Riley." Just recently he played the bewildered father in the road company of the comedy hit of parenthood at 60, "Never Too Late."

Percy Kilbride was the husband of Majorie Main in "The Kettles" comedy series. Both funnymen will be sorely missed in a world where genuine lighter is becoming rare.

'Personalism' Rebellion

By John Chamberlain

The word for modern rebellion, on the part of students and otherwise, seems to be "personalism." That is what some of the young rebels are calling it, and it poses some peculiar problems for those who have to deal with it. The strange thing is that it cuts across all formal political lines. During the recent student sit-in strikes at the University of California in Berkeley, for example, the police were mystified to discover a working united front between Goldwater followers on the right, Freudian beatniks in the middle, and a herd of Maoists, Socialist Workers, Trotskyites, Castroites, and members of the fast-growing W. E. B. DuBois Clubs on the left. All that could be elicited from the rebels was that they were agreed on the need for "freedom" to speak their minds, even if the time and the place were such that the speaking involved breaking well-defined university rules.

Naturally, when a crowd of rebels seems to be following an organized pattern of disturbance, the police are tempted to look for the work of the Communist Party. But if I may hazard a guess, the natural history of rebellion in America is getting far beyond what it was in the depressed Nineteen Thirties.

Gus Hall, the leader of the American Communists, now goes about in a quiet business suit, seeking respectable engagements. The official Communists are complaining among themselves that they have ceased to attract the young, and something must be done about it. But their class struggle slogans no longer go down with the great majority under the age of 30. The kids are not in revolt against the "capitalists." They are in revolt against anything and everything that would deny them the right to emphasize their egos. They are like the wife of Willy Loman, in Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman," in that they think "respect" is something the modern world does not sufficiently accord to the individual.

If the modern student revolution is "personalist," we are in for some really strange aberrations in the future. For a "personalist" rebellion must take on as many shapes as there are individuals with purely personal needs. The Communists were fighting in the troubled waters of the Berkeley campus, and the police took due note of the fact that a number of the agitators were the sons and daughters of old-time Communist Party leaders of the Thirties. But you don't find "personalism" in the ranks of Communism any more; all you get is a new form of bureaucraticism and regimentation.

The dissident Leftist sects — the Maoists, the DuBois Clubs (which take their name from the veteran Negro leader, W. E. Burghardt DuBois, who joined the Communist Party at the age of 93) — seem to offer more by way of adventure. But even these do not promise very much in the nature of ego-satisfaction.

In a world hungering for "personalism," it is easy to see why the boys and girls are bored with college. The courses in social and political science, for example, have become inexpres- sibly dreary; instead of reading the exciting classics in the subject, such as Hobbes' "Leviathan," Calhoun's "Disquisition on Government," James Madison's contributions to "The Federalist," Aristotle's "Politics," and Marx's "Eighteenth of Brumaire of Louis Napoleon," the student begins with Harold Lasswell's "Politics: Who Gets What When," which conveys very little beyond what can be said in the slang word "gimme." The students learn about statistics, not about ideas, idiosyncrasies, passions, curiosities, and glamor. They would never think, for instance, of explaining any part of Irish history in terms of Parnell's attachment to Kitty O'Shea.

"Personalism" is a revolt against the world of the computer. It is a revolt against being summed up in a Social Security number and a Zip Code address. It is a revolt against the true-false examination question, the pollster interrogation, the canned I. Q. test. No wonder the young go into the South to fight a "personalist" fight for the Negro. In doing this, they are proving to themselves that they can kick against some dreary boundaries.

But after "personalism," what? You still have to master skills, learn an art or a trade, find the joys of family and foothold. Tragically, this is what the "personalist" rebels do not seem to know. If they did, they would read some books in college that are not necessarily on the professors' lists.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

MORRIS, longtime waiter at a Broadway restaurant, realized that his end was near, but assured his wife, "Sarah, any time you want to see me, I'll come back." Then, cheerful to the end, he passed away.

One day Sarah visited a spiritualist, and said, "I must see my Morris. He's expecting my call." The spiritualist turned out all the lights, and whispered, "Knock three times."

Sarah knocked, but nothing happened. She knocked louder — again without result. Thoroughly annoyed, she cried, "Morris, this is the last time I call you. Come here immediately."

There was a vivid flash of lightning, and there was Morris. "So, you finally came," said Sarah. "Why didn't you appear the first time I knocked?"

Morris drew himself up, and pointed out haughtily, "It's not my fault."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

One moment of driving, forceful personality, the next a sick, weak invalid. This is the simple saga of the sudden, involuntary admission into the not-so-exclusive Coronary Club.

More and more new members are drafted from every social and economic group in today's cholesterol-packed, hectic, anxiety-producing way of life.

In a single instant there is an explosive upheaval that undermines the total life pattern of an individual and all of those close to him.

Suddenly the tireless "tycoon" who "could not possibly spare a moment to relax" finds himself hospitalized for six full weeks of strict bed rest with no smoking, no telephones, no visitors. To his astonishment, the office miraculously continues to function without his "indispensable" presence.

A coronary attack, heart attack, or, technically, a myocardial infarction, are essentially the same. They mean that a blood vessel which brings nourishment to the heart muscle has been blocked by disease. That part of the heart muscle deprived of its blood supply is for the time being "knocked out of commission."

Complete rest then becomes imperative so that the remaining healthy part of the heart muscle can continue its uninterrupted beat until the whole heart once again returns to health.

At first the coronary patient is overwhelmed in utter disbelief that this stunning disaster could have struck him. Apprehension and anxiety about himself, his family and his job is the immediate reaction of the stricken patient. Soon both pain and anxiety are alleviated by intensive medical care and constant reassurance from the physician.

At first it is difficult for a patient to adjust to the restrictions and total dependence on nurses and family, which are necessary to ensure complete rest.

Even in the very early stages of recovery, the process of physical and emotional rehabilitation must begin, if the patient is to be returned to society as a serviceable human being, unshackled by the fear of being a chronic cardiac invalid.

A heart attack is a shattering emotional experience which deserves sympathetic understanding, combined with empathic reassurance that "once a coronary, always a coronary" is false, and a misconception.

The recuperating coronary patient must be freed of the fear that all future physical or emotional disturbances may cause another attack. The mature "recovered coronary" is usually able to resume a productive, active life, within sensible limits.

Unfortunately, many patients recover physically, but remain "coronary cripples" because of unfounded, reasonless fears.

The coronary experience has been called by some "a blessing in disguise." In many cases, it may actually prolong life by providing a valuable warning and forcing the realization that the psyche and the soma — THE mind and the body — have rights as well as responsibilities, and must be indulged with reasonable periods of rest and relaxation to function at full capacity.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Many stores will be as crowded today as last week. Many will keep their extra clerks over for a few more days to handle the throngs bent on exchanging or returning Christmas presents.

Merchants also are preparing for upcoming clearance sales with more items added to the list, while others will have bigger price discounts this time than last.

Some stores have tighter rules than formerly about exchanging those gifts that aren't quite right. They're making sure the goods were really bought where the exchange is sought.

Most take the rush in stride. They put up with the unprofitable business of exchanges, hoping that many of these coming in to get a more wearable necktie will be leaving with some extra merchandise. That's known as impulse buying general.

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO
A blaze in a "dri film" room of the General Electric plant, E. Ohio St., was extinguished by a plant fire team and the Circleville Fire Department.

Fiske O'Hara, Circle Drive, was the winner of the best religious theme class in the annual Christmas lighting contest sponsored by the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary Hall-Adkins Post held their annual Christmas dinner at the Fox Farm.

TEN YEARS AGO
Miss Elsie and Miss Dorothy Updyke left by plane for California to visit their sister, Mrs. Robert Elliott.

Patsy Smith, Sharon Hedges, Debbie Ridlon, Johnnie Eshelman, Beau Stevenson and Newell Stevenson were hosts for a Yule Dance for 200 high school students at St. Philip's Episcopal Parish House.

It was reported that between 150 and 175 muskrat skins and one mink skin were stolen during the night from a southend warehouse.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
A New Years Eve carnival was scheduled as a special event for skating parties at Gold Cliff Park.

Mrs. Martha Goeller of the White Cross School of Nursing planned to spend the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Goeller, E. Mound St.

Thirty-eight couples were present for the holiday formal dance of the Circleville Cotillion Club held in the Memorial Hall.

ated by traffic through store aisles.

The big volume of December sales probably has left less distressed merchandise on hand than usual. But a number of merchants already have laid plans for bigger than normal clearance sales. Some items will be marked down more than last year. Often the weather calls the tune. Where there was a surprisingly balmy autumn, merchants may have unsold overcoats. Toys moved very well this December. But January markdowns will be common.

Merchants also are eager to take advantage of their customers' currently free-spending mood as long as it's running strong. High-priced luxury items moved particularly well this December. In January the merchants will be aiming at the bargain hunters.

And a few will admit privately that some of the goods to be put on sale at hopeful attractive prices in the days and weeks ahead were bought for that purpose and weren't part of the stock displayed on the counters in December.

Retailers also are counting on sales in the first few months of 1965 topping this year's figures by about 5 per cent. With overhead fairly steady, that could bring them a 10 per cent increase in profits.

But today the major business is exchanges.

The usual run of customers crowding the stores will be those who got gift garments of the wrong size or in colors they loathe or objects they couldn't possibly use. Some will be returning gifts and asking for credit against future purchases.

Others will be turning gift certificates into goods — in some stores they'll get what's left over in cash, in others they'll be given credit.

It's Season of Great Letdown

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Every year has a lost week.

This is it — "The season of the great letdown."

It is doubtful that an examination of American history would disclose any great inventions were conceived, any great poems written, any inspiring songs created between Christmas and New Year's Day.

It is not a week for doing great things; it is a week for hanging on — and hoping for better days.

Everyone is gripped by a kind of spiritual numbness and physical lethargy that has turned us all into ambulant zombies, drained of all feeling.

The season of good will to all has passed, leaving us exhausted.

ed from Christmas satieties and excesses and mildly resentful of Santa Claus, whom we tend to blame for our blue and listless mood. Anyone who walks along the streets now absent-mindedly whistling "Jingle Bells" invites black looks.

What we all seem to need is a high-powered, double action, after-Christmas pep pill that will rescue us from the dumps and make us feel as good as we did just a week ago.

What happened anyway to that frolic sense of anticipation, that friendly sense of the joy of sharing, that pulse-throbbing thrill in the mere human ecstasy of being alive? They are gone, leaving a barren glumness in their place.

At home the small boy sits listlessly staring at his broken drum. His older sister — on holiday from school — whines drearily, "What'll I do, Mama, there's no one to play with." And Mama herself wonders wearily how she's going to summon the strength to get done all the things that cry for her to do.

One by one the browning needles drop from the Christmas tree upon the living room rug. Sensing the decline in family cheer, the dog snarls at the cat, and the cat arches her back and hisses back.

The deterioration in the jolly "Ho, Ho, Ho!" spirit is even more evident outside the home. The postman totes his load of belated Christmas cards with the self-pitying air of an Atlas carrying unnecessary burdens.

In the department stores the clerks, still busy taking back or exchanging presents, are islands of industriousness in the general inertia, but their smiles are forced and they go about their chores reluctantly.

Yes, life is at a halt during the season of the great letdown. But this too will pass.

After the first of January, fired up with new resolutions, everyone will be back on the beam. Some of them will even begin to believe in Santa Claus again.

LBJ let it be known that he intends to push his "great society" plans at a somewhat leisurely pace. Like reaching the goal just under four years from now.

Johnson believes in making a small beginning and increasing the pressure. Ask the beagle.

Johnson doesn't think deep-seated problems can be solved in a day. A deep-seated problem requires a steady program of exercise and diet.

LBJ does not intend to extend the warfare into North Vietnam. Not with Red China ready to extend it back.

Presumably "great society" means something like an end to unemployment. I appeal to everyone but the career jobless.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Constitution doesn't require presidents to hold news conferences but President Johnson, like his predecessors, is holding them. His are different from theirs.

No one can say his way isn't working out well for him, 13 months after he took office, since at this point it isn't clear why Johnson thinks it's necessary for him to be different.

But there's a pretty good explanation for why his way hasn't caused him trouble. He hardly ever says anything that would. Conflicts set up road-blocks and so far Johnson seems to be making a career of not creating them.

In this sense he is up till now the most noncontroversial president since Calvin Coolidge.

Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy all held so-called formal news conferences, Eisenhower less often than the others.

The formal kind is announced long enough before time for all the newsmen in Washington to go, if they want to. There the president is wide open to any kind of question and his answers become a matter of record.

This serves the double purpose of letting the president get his ideas out to the public while letting the public get a close-up look at him.

Kennedy, the first to hold news sessions on live television, did a brilliant job. This helped build up the popularity of a man who had won the presidency by a hair in 1960.

Roosevelt thought he got as much good from the newsmen's questions as they did from his answers. He used to hold two conferences a week.

Johnson has almost entirely eliminated the formal kind of meeting with the press.

In Washington he usually, and suddenly, calls together the newsmen assigned to cover him and trots around the White House grounds with them, answering them as he goes.

The suddenness of this peripatetic conference leaves out scores of newsmen who would like to be present if they knew there was going to be a conference-on-the-trot. Their absence also limits the number of questions that are asked.

Or Johnson calls in reporters at the White House or his ranch, either individually or in selected groups or just those who happen to be around, and then talks to them in one of three ways.

1. On the record, meaning anything he says can be attributed to him.

2. Off the record, meaning nothing he says can be used.

3. Background, meaning what he says can be used so long as the reporters don't say he said it. This can have strange, almost weird results.

Instead of being able to say what they write came from Johnson himself, they say the president thinks or hopes this or agrees or disagrees with that. This makes them look like a bunch of mind readers.

Or, instead of using the device just mentioned, they can say the President is considering doing something, according to sources close to him.

If all this is baffling to newspaper readers, it's equally baffling to reporters who weren't at one of these background confer-

Information Of Interest To Veterans

(Veterans and their dependents who may have any questions concerning any benefits from the Veterans Administration should bring their questions to James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer. His office is located in the basement of the County Court House).

Q-I have been told that a veteran must sign an occupancy certificate before he can get a GI home loan. What does this mean?

A-This means that the veteran who applies for a GI home loan must certify both at the time of the application and at the time of closing the loan that he intends to live in the home for which the loan is sought.

This means that, as of the date of his certification, the veteran actually lives in the property personally as his residence or actually intends upon completion of the loan and acquisition of the dwelling unit to move into the property within a reasonable time and to utilize such property as his residence.

Q-Do both the Purple Heart Award and the Good Conduct Medal entitle a veteran to 10-point preference on federal civil service examinations?

A-No. Of the two, only the Purple Heart Award provides that benefit.

Q-If a veteran is disabled and has the premiums on his National Service Life Insurance under waiver, does it affect the amount of proceeds his beneficiary will collect on his death?

A-It does not. The beneficiary will receive the full face value of the veteran's GI insurance. No deduction will be made to cover the premiums he did not pay while the policy was on waiver.

Q-Is the state of New York still paying a bonus benefit for its World War II veterans? If so, how much, and is there a claim application deadline?

A-The 1964 New York Legislature recently set March 31, 1965, as the cutoff date to apply for the World War II bonus benefit. The bonus is payable for service between Dec. 7, 1941 and Sept. 2, 1945. For up to 60 days stateside service, $50 is paid; for 60 days or more stateside service, $150 is paid; for any countable World War II foreign service, $250 is paid.

Q-Who determines a student's eligibility for a loan under the National Defense Education Act? How much may a person borrow under it?

Each participating college or university is responsible for determining the eligibility of a candidate for a loan. A prospective borrower must apply for loan assistance to the financial aid office of the college of his choice. A student may borrow for college expenses in one year a sum not exceeding $1,000 and, during his entire course of higher education a sum not exceeding $5,000. The national average of the annual loan per student has been about $480.

1965 Farm Stabilization Programs Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm stabilization programs for 1965 are fairly well set for most commodities. Most of them are in line with those in effect this year.

Rigid marketing quotas will apply to cotton, most types of tobacco and peanuts. A grower referendum is yet to be held on sales quotas for next year's rice crop. Rigid planting allotments cover sugar beets and sugar cane. All these crops are available in large supplies.

What the agriculture department calls voluntary controls have been set up for wheat and feed grains, also in surplus supply.

No change in the dairy program, which is limited to government purchase of surplus dairy products, is expected before April 1. Surplus dairy products are not as much a problem as they were in other recent years.

Such products as beef cattle, hogs, sheep, lambs, wool, soybeans, flaxseed, dry beans, peas potatoes, fruits, vegetable and tree nuts are not subject to either production limitations or government price supports.

From the standpoint of cost to the government, the 1965 programs are expected to be roughly the same as this year.

In the case of wheat and the major feed grains—corn, barley and sorghum grain—growers are offered price supports and payments for complying with programs designed to hold down production until surpluses are eliminated.

Some 1965 price supports will be lower than this year, the principal ones being cotton, corn, barley, sorghum grain and wheat. But the decline in these supports will be offset insofar as those who reduce plantings are concerned by increases in payments.

The new year may see the government taking action, however, to bolster markets of some farm products not subject to production controls and price supports. It has the power to enter markets to buy a part of the production for the purpose of strengthening producer prices.

This year, for example, it bought more than $200 million worth of beef to bolster weak cattle prices. The purchased products go to welfare programs and school lunches.

Next year, as has been the case for a number of years, upwards of $200 million in payment will be made to farmers who carry out approved soil and water conservation practices.

The new year also is expected to see the government continuing to send large quantities of food abroad under the food for peace program.

'Judgment Day' Eludes Congo Where History Has Been Cruel

EDITOR'S NOTE — With virtually no preparation, the Congo was catapulted into independence four years ago. The results have been sometimes comic, often disastrous. An AP correspondent, who visited the Congo before independence and now four years later, describes the nation's efforts at survival. Second of three articles.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Like so much else in the Congo, there is a primitive religious sect in the east which invites both smiles and tears.

It is called the Kitawala sect, whose idea of the Genesis goes something like this:

In the beginning, God had three sons and a daughter. They were all colorless until God grew bored with this. So he gave the sons the colors of the rainbow to choose from.

The eldest chose to be white and was given a rifle and went to live in Europe. The second son became tan — Arab — and went to live in Zanzibar with a muzzle-loading gun not as good as the rifle. There was nothing left for the third son and he became black and went to live in the Congo armed only with a bow and arrow.

This son became God's favorite and was given the daughter in marriage and they had many children, one of whom was called America. America was carried off into slavery by the son in Europe to a distant land where he invented the automobile, the refrigerator and the transistor radio.

On Judgment Day, America will return to the Congo and give all the descendants of his parents automobiles, refrigerators, radios and all the other good things he invented.

Judgment Day still eludes the Congo, which like many places in Africa has been treated cruelly by history. For centuries it was allowed to sleep until the white man came and grew rich here and then, after 80 years, the Congo suddenly became independent and found itself rushing into the 20th century with scarcely enough preparation for the 16th.

Thus, the average black man, poorer now after four years of disillusioning independence, still rides, still lives in a shack of mud hut while the white man enjoys a big house. The black man has been known to approach whites and ask for their "intelligence pills" as the only sure key to the white world.

The Belgians gave many Congolese the equivalent of a fifth-grade education and they fed and paid them better than most Africans under colonial rule. But unlike the British and the French, the Belgians gave their rich colony no preparation for independence. When it came suddenly four years ago, there was not a single Congolese college graduate, not one doctor or lawyer or engineer or military officer or man with any government training higher than that of a postal clerk.

Now, there is a handful of graduates in these fields in a country with a population of 15 million and a size 80 times the area of Belgium. It is nowhere near enough. And so, four years after independence, the Congo has no sense of being a nation, no central government or army which can function without foreign help. And it is still plagued by the feuds and dialects of more than 200 tribes with the result that on one 300-mile stretch of railroad, the train crews must be changed seven times. Crews from alien tribes would be slaughtered.

For the average Congolese, four years of independence have meant almost four years of bloody genocide in wars of secession and rebellion, riotous graft and ineptitude in government, fewer jobs, fewer medical facilities, fewer goods and galloping inflation.

The rich copper mines, the palm oil, rubber and coffee plantations still are owned by the Belgians and other Europeans.

Most of the stores and all businesses are still owned by Greeks, Indians and Portuguese. Most of the Congo's white population has fled but those still here because of the profits continue to do well financially.

Among black men, only the 50,000 Congolese who have replaced the Belgians in government jobs are doing better economically. But the black bureaucracy is still largely untrained with the result that the government of the Congo, by Western standards, is often government by slapstick.

Like many Africans, the Congolese politician has a passion for argument but not decision. Thus, the Parliament argued for four years about a flag and motto. They finally got the flag design only because President Joseph Kasavubu lost his patience and arbitrarily decided on one. There still is no motto.

Graft in the Congo has a quaint simplicity. A customs inspector simply holds up your bag until you bribe him. A city policeman courteously salutes and shakes your hand before he shakes you down for a real or imagined traffic violation.

Last spring, the cabinet of the province that includes Stanleyville casually voted itself and drew two years "severance pay," about $126,000 — while still in office. Before that, they had pocketed a reported $360,000 intended for police and teachers who went unpaid. The cabinet was only recently fired.

Many teachers throughout the Congo went without salary for two years until they finally went on strike. The central government had sent the money but it never reached them. Estimates of that larceny ranged from $40 million to $50 million.

Western diplomats estimate the strength of the Congolese army at roughly 30,000. The estimate is very rough because local garrisons frequently exist on paper while their commander pockets the payroll.

And now, along with the bitter confused fruits of independence, the bloody rebellions and secessions, the chaos and graft of government, a new element has appeared in the Congo. It is the cold war.

The United States supports the Moise Tshombe government as the only one available with a chance of governing. America sends about $50 million in aid a year, mostly in agricultural surplus.

The Red Chinese are evidently here, too. Their guns and propaganda have shown up among the rebels. If they increase their aid, the United States may be forced to increase its involvement. And the poor bewildered natives in the Kitawala sect may be obliged to rewrite their pathetic history of the world to include the name of a place they never heard of. It is called Viet Nam.

Deadline Near for Filing 1964 Wool Applications

Farmers have until the end of January to file applications for 1964 marketing year payments under the National Wool Act, Galen D. Mowery, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Pickaway County Committee, reminded producers today.

He emphasized that Jan. 31, 1965 is the official final date for accepting payment applications in connection with the marketings of either wool or lambs during 1964. Since Jan. 31 falls on Sunday, the effective deadline will be Feb. 1, 1965.

The Chairman urged producers to submit their applications on completed sales as soon as possible.

The 1964 marketing year under the wool program ends the last day of Dec. 1964. Wool marketing years now coincide with the calendar year.

THE end of January 1965 deadline for filing 1964 applications is in line with normal program procedure of continuing to accept such applications for a month following the end of the marketing year.

Mowery said that the 1964 program payments — which probably will begin in April — will cover shorn wool and unshorn lambs marketing during the 1964 calendar year. Later marketings, or those which are not completed by the end of December 1964, will be eligible for payments for the 1965 marketing year, which will begin the first of the year.

The necessary sales records accompanying the applications will be the basis for calculating the national average price received by farmers for wool during the 1964 marketing year. When the average price can be determined, the payment rates for shorn wool and unshorn lambs sold during the 1964 marketing year will be announced.

Congress authorized the National Wool Act in order to encourage the domestic production of wool.

Hair Problems Easily Solved

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Hair frames your face. If it's bright with highlights and becomingly styled, you're a step ahead in the beauty game.

If it isn't you've got problems. Solving them shouldn't be too difficult if you just make the effort to keep an eye alert to new developments in the cosmetic field.

Here, for example, is a listing of common hair care complaints along with advice on how to handle them.

1. Lack-lustre locks. Grandma's method of brushing highlights into hair (100 strokes a night) still works. Try it and see.

If you need a little help, a dab or two of pomade will give hair lustre. But even if you use pomade, be sure to brush. It's the best way to keep hair healthy.

Since surface soil dulls the brightness of hair, frequent shampoos are suggested, too.

Use a formula that's right for your hair. Special shampoos are available for dry, oily or tinted hair. Color shampoos, designed to enhance the natural shade of your hair, are also on the market.

2. Hair coloring. If locks are mousey or getting gray, stop complaining and start making some colorful changes.

Nowadays, those who aren't dyeing are rinsing or tinting. Join the group.

If you're watching the beauty budget, dye the do-it-yourself way. Many excellent products are available for home use. If you want success to crown your efforts, however, make certain you follow instructions to the letter.

3. Straight hair. Surprisingly enough, I still hear women complaining that their hair won't hold a curl. If Nature didn't supply body, a permanent wave will. It's as simple as that.

Let us fear a permanent wave will leave you crowned with countless ringlets, relax. New permanents, created to go along with smooth-look coiffures, don't create curls. All they supply is the body hair needs to hold a sleek hairdo line.

Also helpful for hair that needs help in holding a curl are such products as setting lotion and hair spray.

A waxy stick that holds errant wisps or stragglers in line is handy to have as well. It comes in neutral, black, brown or silver gray.

woman gets on my nerves so much that I could just scream. I try to ignore her as much as possible, but her slightest faults disturb the living daylight out of me. We aren't on speaking terms right now, but it's best this way because I despise the sound of her voice. I don't feel like being friends with her because that would be worse, believe me. What should I do?

BUBBY TROUBLE

DEAR TROUBLE: You "hate" to intensely for a 15-year-old. The chances are that you are taking out all your frustrations and hostilities on the one who is least able to fight back. Tone down your bitterness, young lady, and get this out of your system by having a frank discussion with your parents.

DEAR ABBY: Our baby was born last March. My mother, who lives in another state, wrote and asked me if the baby had been baptized and I replied no. Then she suggested that I make arrangements to have the baby baptized in the city where she lives, which is my home town. The reason I'm writing you is because I'm sure the priest who will baptize our baby will want to have the birth certificate, which may put me in an embarrassing spot. You see, I told my mother the baby was born in June because I didn't want her to know that I was pregnant when I got married, and I'd rather she didn't find out the truth. Please tell me where I can get a birth certificate stating the baby was born in June.

ON THE SPOT
DEAR ON: Don't risk embarrassment by asking anyone to falsify a legal document. If you have the baby baptized in your home town, hope your mother doesn't notice the date on the birth certificate.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is a beauty operator and when she comes home from work she is usually dog tired. We have some relatives who make a practice of telephoning me during the day to ask if Susan is "doing anything" special that evening, which means, "If we come over will Susan give us a free hair-do?"

I never know how to handle this. If I say that Susan has no special plans that I know of, over they come and poor Susan is stuck. She's such a sweet, big-hearted girl, she would never refuse to do their hair no matter how exhausted she was. I've seen her stand on her feet until midnight giving those cheap cousins free permanents when they could easily afford to go to her shop and pay like everybody else. If I lie and say that Susan has plans for the evening when I know she hasn't, I have to go to confession. Can you help me?

SUSAN'S MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Why lie? Simply tell those who inquire to call after work. Then tell Susan that unless she ENJOYS giving free dairdos after hours she had better gather the gumption to say no. The meek sometimes inherit varicose veins.

Girl Is Slain In Bedroom

Trussed-Up Body
Found by Father

CLEVELAND (AP) — "The worst killing I've ever seen" is how Police Capt. William C. Horrigan of suburban Garfield Heights described the murder of 16-year-old Beverly Jarosz. The girl's father, Thaddeus Harosz, found her trussed up in his bedroom on arriving home from work Monday. She had been stabbed three times, in the chest and back, and had been beaten.

Most of her clothes had been ripped off, and her blood-spattered room was littered with her torn clothing. There were signs of a struggle. The body, bound with rope at her neck and ankles, was on the floor beside a bed.

An autopsy was ordered to determine if the attractive brunette had been raped. Several of the girl's male acquaintances were questioned.

Investigators pieced together this account of part of the girl's activities Monday: Beverly and her sister, Carol, 12, had visited their grandmother, Mrs. George Vanek, and about noon Beverly was driven home by an 18-year-old Garfield Heights youth. He later was questioned by police and released.

At about 1 p.m., Mrs. Jarosz telephoned the home and talked to Beverly, who gave no indication anything was wrong. Mrs. Jarosz said Beverly had gone home to meet a girl friend, Barbara Klonowski, 16.

A little later, Mrs. Jarosz telephoned again.

Beverly "told her she had to hang up," said Mrs. Jarosz. "She said she was expecting Barbara."

At 1:25 p.m., Barbara arrived at the Jarosz home, rang the doorbell but got no answer. She said the side door was open, but the storm door was locked. "I could hear a radio playing loudly," said Barbara. "I thought that was odd."

She said she heard a noise, like a dresser being knocked over. Then she left.

No murder weapon was found.

Jarosz is owner of the Universal Lighting & Manufacturing Co.

Italian Chief Pledges Faith

ROME (AP) — Giuseppe Saragat, 66, first Socialist president in Italian history, swore faith to the nation and the constitution today as a 101-gun salute thundered over Rome from the Janiculum Hill.

The portly former foreign minister took his oath of office standing stiffly erect before a combined session of Parliament, which elected him to a seven-year term Monday on the 21st ballot. He succeeds Christian Democrat Antonio Segni, who resigned because of illness.

The 13 bitter days of balloting left Christian Democratic Premier Aldo Moro's center-left government ridden by rivalry and in danger of collapse. Moro's Christian Democratic party was badly split.

Although Saragat is pro-NATO and anti-Communist, the Communists' 253 votes were the decisive factor. They gave him a total of 646, well beyond the 482 necessary.

The four parties in Moro's coalition — Christian Democrats, Socialists, Republicans and Saragat's Democratic Socialists — could have elected Saragat, but about 150 Christian Democrats turned in blank ballots.

It was a double defeat for the Christian Democrats, Italy's largest and dominant party since World War II. They failed to elect Giovanni Leone, their official candidate, and they couldn't keep Communist votes from being decisive. The result underlined the shaky position of the divided party.

Il Popolo, the Christian Democratic organ, warned today of the "grave phenomenon of internal indiscipline, about which the party must make an attentive and severe examination of conscience."

Meat Smoke Chamber Blast Fatal to Man

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — An employe was killed Monday night in an explosion inside a meat smoking chamber at a warehouse of the Sugar-Dale Provision Co. in southwest Canton. Dead is Mike Mostowy, 38, of North Canton.

The smoking chamber, one of 10 inside the warehouse, has a gas-fired heating unit. Firemen said the cause of the explosion had not been determined. Two other employes were treated at a hospital and released. Carl Lavin, president of the firm, estimated damage at $30,000.

Viet Nam Fighter-Bombers Keep Busy

BIEN HOA, South Viet Nam (AP) — The quartet of Skyraider fighterbombers cruised the sullen Mekong River delta skies like sea gulls.

Suddenly they became hawks. One of the chunky, gray planes peeled off from the formation and dived abruptly at a tangle of trees and huts at a canal intersection in the paddy fields 5,000 feet below.

The young Vietnamese pilot smiled grimly as he rammed the stick forward in the screeching power dive. U.S. Air Force adviser Capt. James T. Harwood of Jonesboro, Ark., already had selected the armament.

It was the fiery death, napalm. "Keep your eye on the far tree line," Harwood told the pilot over the intercom as he watched the altimeter. As the ground rushed up at them there was the familiar crackle of Viet Cong groundfire.

At 100 feet, the pilot jerked back on the stick, his face contorted with the G-forces dragging at him.

A split second later, at 300 knots, they were over a cluster of huts. Two cylinders dropped from the Skyraider's wings.

For 20 seconds a ball of fire raced among the huts as the jellied petroleum sought out holes and crevices where the Viet Cong were hiding.

The Skyraider was well on its way, climbing steeply above the cloud of black smoke on the ground.

"You rolled that stuff among them pretty well," Harwood told the pilot.

The second of the death-dealing quartet already was on its way down.

It was loaded with 500-pound bombs known as "daisy cutters" because of the steel probe welded onto their noses. They detonate before they penetrate the ground.

The Vietnamese pilot was cautious. He released a bomb at 2,500 feet and then pulled out of the dive. Five seconds later the plane trembled as the bomb exploded, leaving a huge crater where a hut once stood.

The two remaining planes were figure-eighting their way onto the target on strafing runs.

Three passes later the quartet left the shambles and flew back to Bien Ha base.

This mission was over. The results?

The forward air controller, who had pinpointed the target with smoke rockets thrown from a tiny spotter plane, reported 10 structures destroyed and seven bodies sprawled in the wreckage.

"Better than fair," Harwood commented when he heard the report.

This mission was one of 14,343 sorties flown by the Vietnamese air force against the Viet Cong in four months. Four squadrons — each with 25 planes and based at Bien Hoa, Saigon, Pleiku and Da Nang — flew the missions.

About 6,000 U.S. Air Force men help the Vietnamese fly their combat missions. American ground crews take care of the Skyraiders, which have two seats — one for the Vietnamese pilot and another for the American adviser. Single-seat Skyraiders flown exclusively by the Vietnamese are serviced by Vietnamese.

Each month the Skyraiders drop 6,500 tons of explosives on Viet Cong positions.

They also could easily bomb targets in Laos if the decision is made to hit Communist guerrilla supply lines.

Ex-OSU Aide Put on Probation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Criminal Court Judge Kenneth L. Sater placed a former cashier at Ohio State University Optometry Clinic on five years probation Monday and ordered her to make restitution of a $28,000 shortage within 90 days.

The shortages, which reportedly occurred over a 14-year period, were uncovered after 32-year-old Mrs. Gladys L. Fulton became ill.

She pleaded guilty to 11 counts of embezzlement.

Historian Toynbee Gives Pungent Opinions on Problems of World

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — "The prospect of Red China's domination of the world, in time, is good if relations continue bad between this country and Russia."

It is Arnold Toynbee speaking, a shy smile flitting across his face as he talks. The eminent British historian, nearly 76 but looking younger, is relaxed in slacks and house slippers as the pronouncements fall, one by one.

Charles De Gaulle is "a very annoying man," in some respects "almost childish."

Lyndon B. Johnson is a master politician, with the chance for a significant place in history.

On Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser — "I myself rather like and admire him."

And all the while, the blue, clear eyes close almost tight under hooded lids.

Dr. Toynbee came here in September as visiting professor in history at the University of Denver, and lives in an apartment near the campus.

With quick interest — almost before an interviewer can finish his question — Toynbee leans into his answer with "yes, yes, yes," and a peppering of, "Isn't it?" and, "Don't you think?"

"China by the year 2000 should be able to match the technology of, say, Japan," he said. "The Chinese have a world state viewpoint in their tradition."

"In the years between 1840 and 1945 one country or another has taken bites out of China. That's why China is so grim. When they recover their frontiers, China may calm down, I think."

"China has been colonizing for 2,500 years. They intermarry with others, make them Chinese. That is going to continue. Southeast Asia will become Chinese, much of Siberia will become Chinese. If one were a Russian these days, he would have to be alarmed by what the Chinese are going to do."

Dr. Toynbee is convinced that "nations in Southeast Asia are fed up with Western domination."

"The Vietnamese want to be reunited, whether it's with Communist or capitalist blessing," he says. "If any other country but the United States had gone into South Viet Nam, the United States would have been highly critical. How you will get out is another question. If your country attacks North Viet Nam or Cambodia, the Chinese would intervene and might reopen the frontier in Korea."

"The United States did not think any effort to neutralize Viet Nam was a good enough policy. With Red China in the background, it is late in the day for Western countries to dominate many parts of Asia or Africa. The United States is traditionally against such domination."

Dr. Toynbee, a 12-volume "A Study of History," believes Soviet-American relations "will determine the unification of Germany."

"Neither Russia nor the United States seems willing to take the risks necessary to do this," he said. "They need to learn to trust each other. Red China's mood will be a possible key to reunifying Germany."

The historian, dark jacket and blue tie setting off his white hair, confesses the downfall of Nikita S. Khrushchev surprised him.

"My guess is that the people who have followed him will carry out much the same policies," he said. "There is not much hope, do you think, of any mending of the rift between Russia and Red China, under the conditions Peking has laid down. The Russians do not want war. They are strong for coexistence."

As Toynbee sees him, French President De Gaulle "is a curious mixture, almost a great man and yet almost childish in his trying to blow up France to the proportions of the United States or Russia."

"France is doing a fine job in economic recovery. Most of the French, I think, are more interested in this than in De Gaulle's military grandeur. As long as he is in power, he will be a nuisance, a serious one. France is not a disciplined country and French power will be relatively less after De Gaulle goes."

"When that happens, Britain may get into the Common Market. Western Europe would then be better balanced. Other countries don't like French efforts to dominate Western Europe. For West Germany to accept French leadership is too much to ask."

He believes a U.S. presidential campaign "like the recent one takes too much of a country's energy. I thought it was fantastic the way a candidate has to behave. The issues could be threshed out in a much shorter time."

President Johnson, Toynbee said, "has immense ability as a politician. He is sensitive to what others think and feel. He knows how to get along with Congress. Kennedy was not much in sympathy with Congress, do you think?"

"What are the real aims behind Johnson's political maneuvering? I believe he will succeed in carrying out Kennedy's policies because of this gift of his for the business of politics. A question for the future is whether Johnson is a statesman as well as a politician. He might make himself a big place in history."

Dr. Toynbee regards the Middle East as an area of growing importance.

"Nasser has been tactless in his dealings with other Arab leaders, but he is the first ruler to do anything for the Egyptian peasant. The pyramids were built for the rulers of Egypt, but the Aswan Dam for the good of the people. Nasser will continue to be a big force in the Arab world. I myself rather like and admire him. I've noticed quite a prejudice against Nasser in this country. Americans seem to assume he is a dictator, a bad man. I don't agree with that."

"There are rather few countries capable of being democratic," he says. "This is one of the serious things wrong with the world. India has shown the ability to work democracy out. They seem to have honest elections and this is important to the practice of democracy in our meaning of the word. They deserve our support."

Asked if he thinks college students show more interest in international problems than did their parents, Dr. Toynbee said, "Yes, and that's a hopeful sign."

"The Peace Corps is another thing I'm very keen over," he said. "I have seen them at work in Ethiopia, Nigeria and elsewhere in Africa, teaching English in the schools and so on. The knowledge and experience gained by your Peace Corps young people will be valuable to the United States in the future. This is important, isn't it?"

What can the individual do to help to bring a future of peace and order?

"If every citizen gets caught in the wheel, we will all shuffle off into the hands of dictators," Dr. Toynbee replied. "It would be very serious if we had no democratic controls. I thought the size of the vote in your presidential election was an encouraging sign. It is hard to say how we can go about it as a individual, but every individual does count. He has a moral duty to assert himself."

Ford Urges GOP To Hew To Middle

NEW YORK (AP) — The basic Republican position must be the middle road of moderation, according to Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, who is seeking to unseat Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana as House Republican leader.

Ford said the election defeat of Republican conservatives in the House means that "the moderate-to-liberal wing of the party has earned a greater voice in policy-setting groups."

Writing in Fortune magazine, Ford said the Democratic victory in November was not a mandate for "drastic liberal action." He called it instead "possibly the first negative landslide in American history."

Ford also said the Republican party should strive "to correct the frequently distorted image of a Republican-Southern Democratic coalition."

The Republican party's recovery, he said, will "depend upon the extent of our performance and record of Republicans in this 89th Congress."

He said the Republicans in Congress must come up early with "an affirmative and specific Republican legislative program."

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Franklin County Commissioners have worked out a compromise with officials of the Columbus Bar Association to close the court house nine hours each night and on weekends.

Commissioners estimated the closing will mean a savings of $15,000 to $30,000 a year.

The Franklin County Court House is believed to have been the only one in the state remaining open around the clock.

"Electricity is wires on tall poles"

What is electricity? We asked 10 children and got 10 different answers. DeAnna summed it up to her satisfaction. However you think of it, electricity is still your biggest bargain. . . . More homes, business and industry, and new things not yet marketed will call for even more electric service. To satisfy these demands for efficient low cost electricity where ever and when ever needed, we must plan continuously, constructing new generation facilities and transmission and distribution lines. Yes, electricity is still your biggest bargain. Costs less per kilowatt than it did just a few years ago. In spite of increasing demand, new techniques, and constantly improved methods in the generation of electricity will continue to reduce its costs.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This has been another turbulent year for the movie world.

Death, divorce, illness and a kidnap trial were among the top news stories of 1964. At year's end, more trouble appeared on the horizon. The film industry was faced with the possibility of a major strike, and clashes over the moral content of movies seemed imminent.

Here is how the top news stories of the movie world stacked up to this reporter:

Michigan, Wichita Aces Scorch Nets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sensational performances by Michigan whiz Cazzie Russell and Wichita All-America Dave Stallworth have kept the holiday ball rolling for the nation's top two college basketball powers.
Russell rattled Madison Square Garden boards for 36 points, leading the No. 1 ranked Wolverines over stubborn Manhattan 90-77 in a first-round game of the ECAC Holiday Festival at New York Monday night.
Stallworth, meanwhile, scored 20 of his 29 points in a second-half rally that shot No. 2 Wichita past previously-unbeaten Villanova 86-74 and into the finals of the Quaker City Tournament at Philadelphia.
Nine of the top ten teams in The Associated Press ratings went to the post in tournaments that blanketed the country. The only losers were Illinois and St. Louis, beaten by other members of the select group.

St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, which crashed the top ten for the first time on this week's ballot, outlasted the sixth-ranked Illinois 75-71 — after blowing a 16-point lead — and gained the Quaker City finals opposite Wichita. The unbeaten, 10th-ranked Hawks have won nine starts—including victories over then nationally ranked Davidson and St. John's, N.Y.

St. Louis, No. 9, fell 98-68 before a furious second-half rush by seventh-ranked Indiana in the opening round of the Memphis State Classic. The Hoosiers, 8-0, meet the host team, 95-92 overtime victor over Southern Methodist, for the title tonight.

Minnesota and San Francisco, only other unbeaten clubs among the national leaders, advanced in West Coast tournaments but unheralded Washington threw a scare at the third-ranked Gophers before bowing 77-78 in the first round of the Los Angeles Classic. The fifth-ranked Dons matched Minnesota's 7-0 record by smothering Pepperdine 103-64 in a WCCAC tournament contest.

Fourth-ranked UCLA, unbeaten Utah and Iowa joined Minnesota in the Los Angeles semifinals. The Bruins ran their winning string to seven after an opening loss to Illinois by whipping Arizona 99-79. Utah, 9-0, nipped Michigan State 71-65 and Iowa defeated Southern California 71-65.

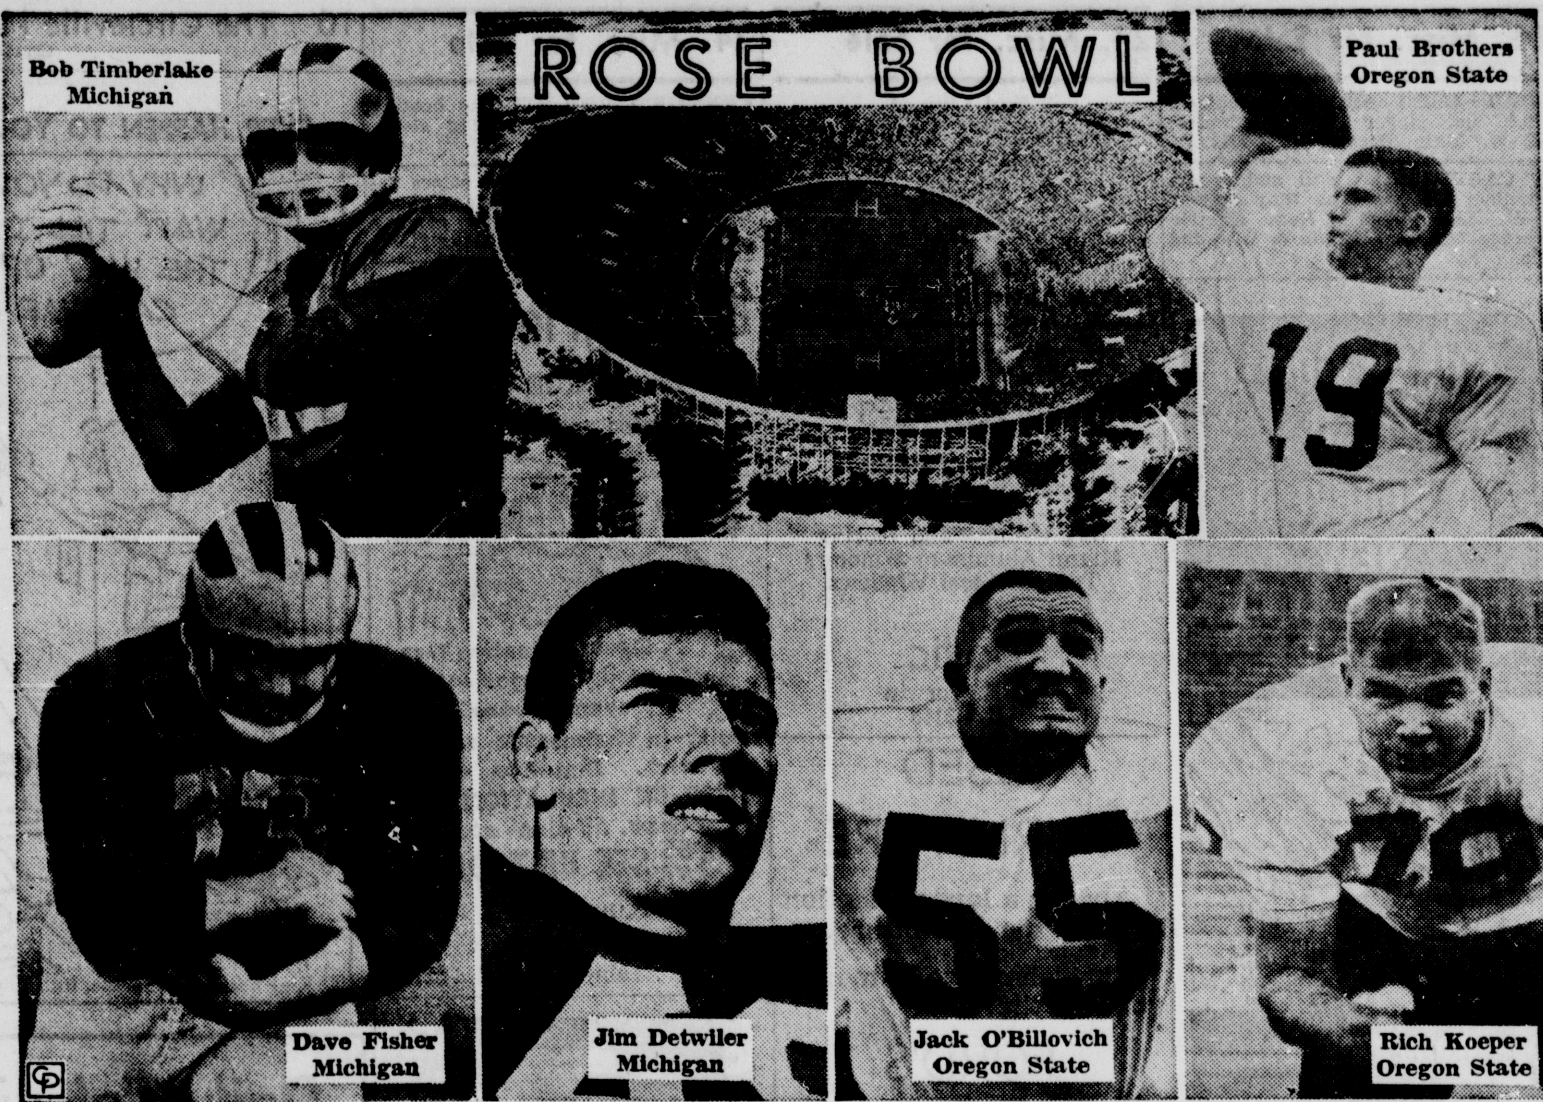

Duke's No. 8 Blue Devils, idle Monday, seek their sixth victory in seven starts at Ohio State Wednesday night.

Lakers Take Trousing From Celts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Beating the Boston Celtics is tough enough under ordinary circumstances but when your two top scorers produce just 16 points between them, it's just about impossible.
The Los Angeles Lakers learned that Monday night as the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division-leading Celtics trounced them 133-112.
The Lakers, front-runners in the Western Division, got just 12 points from Jerry West and only four from Elgin Baylor and never threatened the Celtics, who had six men in double figures.
The victory kept the Celts six games in front of Cincinnati which rallied to top San Francisco 113-108. Los Angeles lost a half game of its margin over idle St. Louis and now leads the Hawks by three games.
In Monday night's only other game, Detroit downed New York 123-117.

CHS Grad Coach At Whetstone

Roger D. Wolfe, Whetstone High School coach, recently guided the cross country team to its best season.
Wolfe also coaches the junior varsity basketball team. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard D. Wolfe of Circleville.
Wolfe formerly coached at Teays Valley High School. He is currently working on his Master's Degree at Ohio State and teaches driver education.

ROSE BOWL: The Wolverines of Michigan, who played in the first Rose Bowl Game in 1902, return to Pasadena, Calif., for the 1965 renewal, meeting Oregon State. Michigan finished with 8-1 and the Beavers with an 8-2 mark.
Heading the Michigan cast is All-American Bob Timberlake, who scored 80 points this season. Paul Brothers, a soph quarterback, gained 1,487 yards for Oregon State, and accounted for 12 touchdowns after winning the position.

Six Straight Wins

Vikings Crowned Champs In Reynoldsburg Tourney

Teays Valley High School's cagers made it six consecutive wins for the season last night when they earned the Reynoldsburg Invitational Holiday Tournament crown by defeating Groveport, 74-51.

Bill Fortner, rugged 6-4 pivotman for the Vikings, led the way with a 24-point effort on 10 field goals and four foul shots.

Fortner helped the Vikings control the boards by grabbing 18 rebounds. The senior veteran has been averaging more than 21 points per game for Teays Valley.

Giving a valuable assist in the scoring department were Doug Mallory, a guard who hit for 15 markers, and Dave Roesse converted recently to forward, who snared 11 points.

GERALD GREEN came through with eight points from his guard slot while Gary Wilson came off the bench to score nine markers for the winners. Mitch Clay added five to the attack while Jerry Hill sank one field goal for two.

High man for Groveport was Gordon Johnston who zipped five buckets from the field and four at the charity stripe.
Tabbed as a strong contender for the South Suburban League crown when the race gets under way, the Vikings have scored more than 70 points in four of the contests they have played this year.

Playing one of their best games of the year last night, according to Coach Russ Gregg, they connected on 58 per cent of their tries from the field. The output was recorded at 32 of 55 attempts.
At the foul line, the winners capitalized on 10 of 13 chances. Teays Valley fell behind by an 8-0 count in the first three minutes as Groveport effectively used a 3-2 zone defense to stop the Vikings.

HOWEVER, Teays Valley came back to take a 13-12 lead at the end of the first period. The victors were on top 25-22 at halftime.

In the third period they came out in a full court press, forcing the losers into numerous turnovers. When Groveport went into a press of its own, the winners were able to open up the

Wolverines Retain Their No. 1 Rating

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today's seminar on how to stay on top of The Associated Press' weekly basketball poll will be taught by Michigan's Wolverines, who seem to have mastered the subject.

Michigan polled 23 first-place votes and 350 points in the voting by 38 sports writers and broadcasters. Wichita, which was 70 points back a week ago, collected 322 points in the tight race for the top spot.

Third-ranked Minnesota had a scare Monday night but held on for a 77-76 victory over Washington in the Los Angeles Classic. In the same tournament, fourth-ranked UCLA ripped Arizona 99-79.

San Francisco, completing the top five, routed Pepperdine 103-64 in the Western College Athletic Conference tourney at San Jose, Calif.

Illinois, up to No. 6, lost to 10th-ranked St. Joseph's 75-71. The Hawks grabbed the final in the rankings, ousting Davidson. Sixth-ranked Indiana, down by two points at the half, came back to rout No. 9 St. Louis. The undefeated Hoosiers are 8-0.

Cornell's 1964 football team won five of nine games for the Big Red's first winning season since 1959.

Rose Bowl Grid Drills Are Slow

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — It's getting to a point where every minute counts for Michigan and Oregon State as they continue football drills for their Rose Bowl meeting Friday.

The weather took a turn for the better for the first time in a week as Michigan held a two-hour practice session Monday.

Oregon, meanwhile, practiced for only 40 minutes before coach Tommy Prothro called his boys in, saying he was displeased with their work.

"We still don't know how far along our boys are in preparing for the game," Michigan coach Bump Elliott told a meeting of the Southern California football writers Monday.

"I like, the way it looks out there now, and hope it stays that way for the rest of the week," Elliott said, looking out the window at the bright sun.

But midway through the afternoon practice session the sun went behind the clouds again.

Overcast skies and a week-long rain have bothered both teams during their first week of preparations.
The forecast is for, more rain in the next two days, with clear skies expected Thursday and again for the game.

Another Coach Signed by Hawks

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ben Kerner, the St. Louis Hawks owner who changes coaches with the same ease that New Year's resolutions are broken, is ready to begin 1965 with a new one.

Kerner dropped the ax Monday on Harry Gallatin and named veteran Richie Guerin as player-coach of the National Basketball Association club.

Gallatin must have known his time was short, realizing he had been leading the Hawks for 2½ seasons. Kerner has had nine coaches in the 10 seasons the club has been in St. Louis, and none has lasted that long.

The most successful team in the whole post-season Bowl series has been the Trojans of Southern California with 10 wins in 13 appearances.

Alabama QB May Miss Orange Bowl

MIAMI (AP) — Top-ranked Alabama probably has lost star quarterback Joe Namath for the Orange Bowl football game here Friday night, but Texas isn't chortling.

"We're more afraid of Steve Sloan," said Texas Coach Darrell Royal, upon hearing that Namath's fragile right knee had buckled on him again in Monday's practice. "This Sloan is a good passer and runner. He's the boy who brought Alabama through."

Sloan, also handicapped by a bad right knee, probably will have to carry the signal-calling burden for the Crimson Tide if Namath's injury ties him to the sideline.

This appeared likely today — three days before the night game between the nation's No. 1 and No. 5 ranked college elevens — and Sloan himself is a doubtful quantity.

Namath, called by Coach Paul Bryant "the greatest football player I ever saw, went down in pain while executing a simple handoff during a drill Monday.

"Oh, no, not this," Bryant groaned, as the rugged 6-foot-3 passing whiz from Beaver Falls, Pa., was carried to the dressing room. Later, Namath was on crutches.

The injury threw a blanket of gloom over the camp of the Alabama team, rated a six-point favorite over Texas, which was national champion in 1963 and lost only one game on its 10-game schedule this year.

UofC, Xavier and OU Win in Tournaments

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cincinnati's Bearcats, an unknown quantity despite the loss of only one game going into the Holiday Basketball Festival at Madison Square Garden, caught fire in the second half Monday night to rout Temple 83-56 and join Michigan, Princeton, and St. Johns of New York as first-round victors.

Ohio University and Xavier also posted first round victories in out-of-state tournaments — the Bobcats with an impressive 73-65 decision over Duquesne in the Charlotte, N.C. Invitational and Xavier with a 93-87 conquest of Louisiana State in the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City.

Ohio State returned to the victory column by overwhelming Dartmouth on the Buckeye court by a score of 90-59, and Youngstown rolled over Maine 81-60 as the Penguins claimed their eighth victory in nine starts.

The Findlay College Invitational got under way with the host Oilers defeating winless Heidelberg 90-74 and Ohio Northern downing Cedarville 88-84 in first round games. Cedarville, winner of eight straight, suffered its first loss.

Cincinnati went into the Holiday Festival with a 6-1 mark but coach Ed Jucker's team had been largely untested except for a single loss to Miami of the Mid-American Conference.

The 'Cats got off to a slow start against Temple and trailed in the early going as the Owls' zone defense proved effective. Cincinnati started to click late in the opening period and moved to a 37-32 halftime advantage.

Cincinnati meets St. Johns and top-rated Michigan plays Princeton in the semi-finals tonight.

Ohio University came from 14 points behind to grab its victory over Duquesne. Sophomore Mike Hammond hit on a pair of lay-ups to break a 63-63 deadlock and the Bobcats went on to out-score the Dukes 10-2 in the final three minutes. Ohio meets Davidson in the title game tonight at Charlotte.

The Ohio State Buckeyes, returning home after losing two straight on the road, showed off a well-balanced offense in rolling over an undermanned Dartmouth team.

Five players, led by Jim Shaffer's 18 points, scored 10 or more points as the Bucks grabbed their fifth game in eight starts. Ohio had a 45-23 bulge at the intermission and before the contest ended coach Fred Taylor had used all of his 15 varsity players.

Jerry and Jim Carter, Findlay's sophomore twins, combined for 46 points in sparking the Oilers to their easy win over Heidelberg, now loser of eight consecutive games. Jerry had 26 markers compared to 20 for his brother.

Stan Kaiser had 21 points for Ohio Northern which handed Cedarville its initial loss in the opening game of the Findlay Bears face Findlay in tonight's championship clash with the opening round losers battling in a preliminary consolation fray.

At Oklahoma City, Xavier utilized a flashy fast break to roll up a 19-point halftime edge over LSU, then held on for its six-point verdict. Steve Thomas led the Ohioans with 32 points although Louisiana State's Dick Maile claimed scoring honors with 38 markers.

Kenyon College lost to St. Lawrence of New York 63-53 in the Union College round-robin tournament at Schenectady. Terry Parmelee, 6-3 freshman, led Kenyon scorers with 22.

Views on Television — Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Kennedy, as a large number of women and some men house-bound with head colds know, is the nice-looking, pleasant-mannered fellow who each afternoon presides over an NBC program during which studio contestants and celebrity guests team up to play a word game.

Kennedy likes his job, enjoys riding herd on the players and hopes "You Don't Say" will go on forever.

"Before I got this show," he confessed, "I made quite a good living making bad pilots — trying out game shows that never went anywhere. I think I made a bad pilot for every producer in Hollywood."

He worked his way into the specialized field from an announcer's job and doing commercials.

Now he puts in a couple of very busy days a week taping the five-day output of "You Don't Say." His preparation consists of making certain his sports jackets are wrinkle-free.

"Nobody sees me from the waist down," he said. "So I just keep eight jackets at the studio and change them between shows."

The celebrity guests, particularly the women, also know about this costuming dodge and are likely turn up with five different blouses.

"I was surprised one day — and so was the studio audience — when Elizabeth Scott walked on stage for a show. She was wearing a sequin top, very elaborate, and a pair of well-worn blue jeans," Kennedy said.

"I've Got a Secret," CBS' perennial panel show, keeps rolling along year after year. For awhile this fall it looked as if Garry Moore's replacement, Steve Allen, would change the character of the program. He didn't give the long-playing panel much to do. Now things seem back to normal and the show probably will go on another 10 years.
